*AP is a drilling based in the United State of America.
Established in state of Georgia with over years expertise in Oil & Gas field. AP has successfully worked on numerous large-scale turnkey projects*

- Drilling Project Management*
- Contracted drilling services*
- Integrated and Drilling Management Services*
- Oil and Gas exploration.*
- Systems Integration and Modernization.*
- Engineering, Procurement,*
- Installation & Commissioning (EPIC)*
- Maintenance of Oil & Gas Installation.*
- Prototype Systems Design and Consulting.*
- Technical Documentation and Work Packs*

Services

❖ AP (American Petroleum US Inc.) service offerings are designed to Maximize our clientele's access to quality products and industries expertise and successfully provide fuel handling and supply solution.

❖ AP provide s both local and international turnkey drilling and fuel supply solutions. Our drilling and fuel services support global operation and our ability to successfully provide these solutions is based on the combination of our specialist expertise in fuel supply logistics and our experience providing global logistics services.

Services

❖ AP achieves this by implementing and managing supply chain services that allow us to rapidly respond to consumer demand driven by heavy duty applications and production limitation.

❖ AP brings together the best systems, processes and personal to create solutions that balance the project cost effectiveness with high quality and low operational risk. We work very closely with the suppliers, who have the local scale and infrastructure to ensure both reliability of supply and international quality standards.

Design:

American Petroleum to help determine ways to increase recovery by analyzing reservoir measurements, including data from both conventional and unconventional sources of oil and gas.

➤ Our analyses include various modeling techniques such as regression analysis, plus clustering, principal components and more. American Petroleum can be used to access and analyze the myriad types of data needed to model and monitor environmental conditions.

➤ We can also create a variety of efficient experimental designs for extracting information from simulation results with the least number of simulation runs, maximizing operating efficiency, minimizing well and plant downtime, managing wellhead imbalances, and developing and managing predictive maintenance programs are among the challenges facing the industry..

Commissioning:

- American Petroleum has been providing training in commissioning and development programs to the refining, petrochemical and gas processing industries for decades.
- Our courses and tools focus on developing the skills of your operators and process engineers to improve your profitability, assure safe operations, optimize unit operation and respond to emergency situations when they occur.
- We work with you to define multi-year, enhancement programs for your staff using state of the art learning tools such as web-based training, process unit simulators and troubleshooting tools, as well as instructor-led training to ensure your workforce is prepared for any challenge.

Optimization:

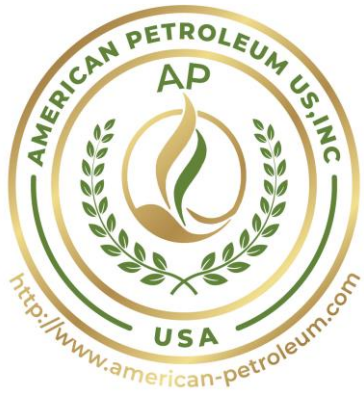

AP offers not just superior process and catalyst technology, but unmatched capability of bringing complete solutions to our customers, covering planning, design, implementation, and on-going profitability enhancement.

- Full scope-of-supply: Process technology, catalysts and adsorbents, key mechanical equipment, engineering and start-up/operations support services.
- Integrated, Optimized Solutions: Each customer's solution is unique and where multiple processing steps are required, optimized integration is key to minimizing capital cost and feedstock consumption.
- AP plays an integral role in all steps, minimizing recycle and lost time. Projects get on-stream faster and produce on-spec product sooner and maximizing project ROI and minimizing risk.

Opportunity

Due to the recession, investment in oil production and exploration has experienced an overall reduction.

- With the likelihood of oil prices increasing within the next few years due to sustained demand, utilization of rigs is likely to increase
- With higher oil prices, incentive explore for oil located in the deepest, harshest territories will increase .
- These will increasingly require capable rigs, which AP has an advantage in exploration

American Petroleum US, Inc.

The Drilling is information that is so large, complex, and fast moving that it's difficult to handle using everyday data management tools in the Oil & Gas industry, we can come from traditional drilling, such as equipment monitoring and maintenance records. Until recently it was not always retained for long-term use.

- Equipment maintenance: using data collected from pumps and wells to adjust repair schedules and prevent or anticipate failure.
- Production optimization using powerful modeling capabilities to anticipate costs and production volumes.
- Price optimization: using scalable compute technologies to determine optimum project cost.
- Safety and compliance: using weather or workforce scheduling drilling to avoid creating dangerous conditions for workers and mitigating environmental risks
